CLASS OF 1916

Commencement Exercises Thursday Evening Mark Closing of Another Successful Year—Thirty-Seven Graduates.

The annual commencement exercises of the Maysville High School were held in the auditorium Thursday evening before a large audience of admiring, expectant and applauding relatives and friends, all of whom enjoyed to the utmost the interesting exercises.
At 8:15 o'clock after a selection by the orchestra the graduates marched in and seated themselves in semi-circle across the stage. The stage was decorated with ferns and the class colors of purple and white, and made an excellent appearance.

Rev. J. H. Fielding made a short prayer, opening the exercises. Mr.
Henry Shea, the second honor graduate, gave the opening address "At the Bar of the Future." His address was followed by a beautiful selection by the Girls Glee Club of the High School.
Mr. James January gave an excellent talk on "The History of Maysville High School." His speech will be printed in the Ledger tomorrow.

The three young ladies on the program did splendidly. Miss Lucie Smith with an essay on "The Power of Music," Miss Ruth Willett with an essay on "The Opportunities of the Girl Graduate" and Miss Martha Lovel with a reading—an adaption of "Alice in Wonderland." Miss Lovel depicted Alice as a High School graduate just starting out into life. Her reading was well received.

The main address of the evening was made by Mr. William Soward, the first honor graduate. Mr. Soward's subject was "The National Policy of Preparedness; What It Should Be." Mr. So-ward's talk was well received and to the point.

Mr. S. P. Browning, the president of the Board of Education delivered the scholarships and the diplomas. As each of the graduates received their diploma, he or she removed the tassel from the left side of cap to the right side, thus showing that they had graduated from a High School.

The following were the graduates:
Addie Hord Arnold, Mary Alter Barbour, Lemuel Brooking, Louise Bland, George Burrows, James Caproni, Ruth Chalkley, Georgia Clark, Cecil Dickson, Lucille Egnew, Anita Glenn, Carrie
Goodwin, Everett Hall, Roy Hampton,

WILSON AND MARSHALL

Renominated By Acclamation By The Democrats—Platform Is Not Ready, and Recess Till Today Taken—Feature of Day's Proceedings Speech
By Bryan.

St. Louis, Mo., June 15—President Wilson and Vice President Marshall were nominated by acclamation tonight by the Democratic National Convention, the ticket being completed four minutes before Friday.

Contrary to expectations, however, the convention did not finish its work because the platform was not ready, and it will meet again at 11 o'clock Friday morning. A feature of the day was a stirring Democratic speech by William J. Bryan, of Nebraska, who was received with great enthusiasm.

It was announced in the convention that the sub-committee drafting the platform had finished its work, but that the entire resolutions committee was not assembled to pass upon it and it was not known when that could be done.

President Wilson's own plank, charging conspiracy among some foreign-born citizens for the benefit of foreign powers and denouncing any political party which benefits by not repudiating such a situation, was incorporated in the platform just as the President himself had sent it from Washington. It was understood that the President insisted that the plank should be put in the platform the way he had drawn it.

Never Doubt of Wilson
There never was any doubt of President Wilson's nomination tonight, but there was a possibility that some vice presidential booms might be brought out in opposition to Vice President Marshall. They melted away, however, when the convention got in session, and as soon as President Wilson's nomination had been made by a roaring chorus of acclamation.

ENTERTAINED IN HONOR OF GUESTS

Miss Nell Sutherland, the popular teacher of history in the High School,

SUPER-PORCINITY

The $45,000,000 appropriated by the House ostensibly for flood control along the southern part of the Mississippi, but in reality to reclaim 16,000,000 acres of private-owned land with federal money, would have built the two super-dreadnaughts, recommended by the Navy Department and thrown out by the Congressional committee on naval affairs. The demand for preparedness has presented the best opportunity ever accorded the Democrats to stow their cellars full of pork for the winter which is to come. When the Republicans appropriated money for the irrigation or arid lands in the west, the settlers, and not the general public, paid for it.

Among business men of any and all party affiliations, there is manifest a feeling that the Democratic party is not equal to the task of solving promptly and effectively the great economic and governmental problems that arise from time to time. This feeling seems to have its origin in several well-known facts: First, neither the President nor the members of the Senate and House who are in control of the important committees, have ever had any experience in successful private undertakings. Second, the hesitating, vacillating, retracting policy of the administration arouses distrust among men accustomed to weigh matters carefully and act promptly and decisively. Third, the criticisms made against their own party by such men as Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, and Senator Newlands, of Nevada, have confirmed the views taken by men not particularly interested in party problems. This distrust of the ability of Democratic leaders is hurting the Democratic party.

Henry Morgenthau, recently returned from his post as Minister to Turkey, wants the people of the United States to raise a fund of $500,000,000, or $5 per capita, for the relief of the Americans, and he says we can easily do it. Of course we can. We must have raised vastly more than that for the relief of the unemployed of this country soon after the Democrats threw our markets open to the cheap labor of Europe and Asia. If we could do it under those adverse conditions, of course we can do it now, when we have the advantage of a prosperity founded upon war protection and war orders. The charity which began at home in 1913-14 can be easily extended to Armenia in 1916.

The United States invasion of Mexico will have one result even if it doesn't get Villt. Just think of how many thrilling rescues of beautiful American maids in Mexico can be effected by brave United States scouts during the next four or five years on the moving picture screen.

It is estimated that the annual loss to agriculture in this country from depredations of insects and rodents alone is $10,000,000,000.—Trenton Weekly Republican. And the Democratic free trade bug stands first on the list of offenders.

The wise man, you know, is a man among men, but the fool is just only a fool.

ADVANCE CLAIMED

By Slavs, Who Say 121,780 Prisoners Were Captured—Russians Push Forward About Twenty Miles Checking of Czar's Men Men Reported in Berlin.

London, June 14.—An advance of about 20 miles by the Russians, who have Czernowitz as chief objective, is chronicled in the latest Russian official communication.

Having previously crossed the Dniester River and taken Horodenka and Sale Szczyk, the Russians have now driven their men to the left bank of the River Pruth and captured the town of Sniatyn, which lies 20 miles northwest of the Bukovina capital.

Nowhere on the front from the Pripiet River in Russia and through Galicia to Bulkowina has there been any cessation in the great Russian offensive.

Along the entire line, according to the Russian War Office, the Austro-Hungarians and Germans are being driven back, and the Russians are still taking thousands of prisoners and capturing guns, machine guns and war supplies.

In the 11 days drive 1,780 officers and 120,000 men and 130 guns and 263 machine guns have been captured.

On the lower end of the German line in Russia, to the north of Baranovich, the Russians evidently have anticipated the proposed German offensive and taken the initiative into their own hands. Here, after violent artillery preparation, they seven times essayed to storm the German lines. Berlin says however, that all their efforts failed, and that they were repulsed with heavy losses.

The fighting around Verdun has dwindled to intermittent bombardments, there having been no infantry attack anywhere on this front since Tuesday, when French positions west and south of Thaumouit farm were captured by the Germans and 793 Frenchmen made prisoners.

Canadians around Zillebe, in Belgium, are holding the 1,500 yards of ground recaptured from the Germans Tuesday, although the Germans are heavily shelling them. No infantry attacks have been carried out by the Teutons.

The latest advices from the Austro-Italian war theater credit the Italians with repulsing violent Austrian attacks on the Posina front, northwest of Schio. On the other sectors of this line the Austrians are bombarding the Italian positions.

ADVANCE OF RUSSIANS IS ONE OF MOST BRILLIANT FEATS OF WAR, ASQUITH SAYS

Lady-Bank, Scotland, June 14.—In observance of the thirtieth anniversary of his election to the House of Commons from East Fife, Premier Asquith today visited his constituency for the first time since the outbreak of the war, addressing a great meeting of his supporters and many who in past years had been his opponents.

In a survey of the situation Premier Asquith declared that the Russian advance was one of the most brilliant feats of the war.

The Italians, Mr. Asquith said, were making resistance to the Austrian onslaught which every day was becoming more effective. As for the French nothing could exceed the valor with which they were maintaining the defense of Verdun, he said.

BRITISH NAVY HAS LOST MORE THAN 600,000 TONS, GERMAN NEWSPAPERS SAY

Berlin, June 14.—The losses of the British navy during the war are placed by German newspapers at more than 600,000 tons.

"Up to the time of the recent great battle in the North Sea," says the Overseas News Agency, "the British lost 11 battleships, 15 armored cruisers and 11 other cruisers."

"To this must be added 30 torpedo boats, 20 gunboats, 20 submarines and other vessels, with an aggregate tonnage of $460,000. These losses were increased as a result of the Skagerrak battle to more than 130 units, with a total tonnage exceeding 600,000."

Keeping 130,214 pairs of legs in step in Chicago's great parade was some job. But, on second thought, they were not in step.

We all have some good in us, but many a man is mighty successful in not letting any of it out.

INTENSIVE STUDY OF THE SURFACE WATERS OF THE OHIO RIVER BASIN

Intensive study of the flow of some of the principal tributaries of Ohio River is being systematically carried forward by the United States Geological Survey. In the Kanawha River basin alone, which comprises 12,000 square miles, records for the year ending September 30, 1914, are given for 23 stations, in a report recently published by the United States Geological Survey. Records are also given for 49 other gaging stations on tributaries of the Ohio. For some of the larger streams deficiency tables are presented, showing the number of days in each year for several years on which the mean daily flow of the stream was less than certain selected discharges given in the table. The tables show the characteristics of the flow of the streams and are of great value in connection with the study of possible water-power developments.

These records are given in Water-Supply Paper 383, "Surface Water Supply of the United States, 1914," Part III, Ohio River Basin," by Albert H. Horton and Warren E. Hall. The report may be obtained free of charge by applying to the Director, United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

The records in this report and in similar reports issued by the Survey are essential in planning works for utilizing stream waters or for preventing damage by floods. The need of preventing floods was brought forcibly to the public attention by the disastrous flood in the Ohio River basin during March and April, 1913, which caused the loss of hundreds of human lives and destroyed property valued at more than two hundred million dollars. The data needed for the solution of problems involving the flow of streams can not be collected at a moment's notice. Investigations extending over a period of years are essential to determine the variations in the flow of a stream from season to season and from year to year, and the records contained in Water-Supply Paper 383 and similar reports will become more valuable as they are supplemented by records to be collected in the future.

The report is highly technical in character and has no interest for the general reader, but will be useful to engineers and others interested in the utilization of the streams.

WOMEN IN TRAINING

Douglas, Ariz., June 14.—Mrs. Rosaura V. de Tovar, of Agua Prieta, President of the Sonora Women's Rifle Association, today received a letter from Governor Adolfo de la Huerta, of Sonora, accepting her proffer of the services of the 2,000 members of the association as soldiers in case of American intervention. The Governor thanked her for the spirit of patriotism exhibited by the offer.

NOW LET 'EM TRY IT!

Brownsville, Texas, June 14.—Movable blockhouses on freight cars will be used by Brigadier General James Parker in the protection of bridges from attacks by Mexican bandits. The first of these blockhouses, which were secretly built, today was placed on a specially constructed siding between two trestles 10 miles north of here. The blockhouse is protected by bags of sand and contains many loopholes.

BANKER UNDER ARREST

Mexico, City, June 13.—(Via Laredo Texas, June 14)—William Hopfner, Assistant Manager of the Bank of London and Mexico, was arrested yesterday on a charge of refusing to accept certain constitutional money. Bankers are said to be suffering as a result of the forced acceptance of the money.

GENERAL STRIKE ENDED

Christiania, June 14.—After a debate of 12 hours the Socialists early today decided to end the general strike declared last week as a protest against the bill for compulsory arbitration in labor disputes. The bill has been passed by Parliament. The strikers resumed work tonight.

It is now the time of year when we can revel in the joys of sunshine and flowers and sweet perfumes, and bugs and gnats and mosquitoes. Oh joy!

It is better to make the most of yourself than to have some other fellow make the most of you.

T. R. UNDER X-RAY

Following Severe Pains in Region of The Heart—Result of the Examination Will Be Made Public Today—Former President Is Seriously Ill.

New York, June 14.—Colonel Roosevelt is seriously ill. He submitted to an X-ray examination tonight, the result of which will not be made known until tomorrow.

Mr. Roosevelt looked and acted like a very sick man today when he went to the pier to meet his son, Kermit, and his wife, who arrived here from Colon, Panama, on the transport Kilpatrick, now in use as a passenger steamer.

His old smile seemed to have vanished entirely. He walked about the pier with halting step and frequently placed his hand against his left side, as though he was in pain. His face twitched nervously. He smiled wanly at his son and daughter-in-law when he caught sight of them and walked slowly up the gangplank to meet them.

Mum at First.

The Colonel was accompanied to the pier by Mrs. Roosevelt, Mrs. Richard Derby, his daughter, and Archie Roosevelt.

"I have nothing to say," Colonel Roosevelt told reporters. "I am here to meet my son Kermit; that is all."

About half an hour after the boat docked a woman member of the Roosevelt party went to a telephone and called up a doctor. The Colonel, she said, was feeling badly, had a stitch in his side and needed treatment. She suggested that the doctor go to the pier to look after him.

The Colonel had expected today to meet Raymond Robins, Chairman of the Progressive convention, and Harold L. Icks, National Committeeman from Illinois, but the conference did not take place.

Gives Out Statement.

The Colonel late tonight gave out the following statement:

"One year ago I broke a rib on my left side. I was riding horseback and the horse threw me. The coughing spells which I have had probably have strained one of the ligaments."

The Colonel did not go back to Oyster Bay today.

Mrs. Derby said tonight that her father had been suffering from a bad cold and has been coughing a great deal. In one of the spells of coughing he strained a muscle about his heart. Dr. Derby took him to a near-by physician to have the trouble attended to.

OLLIE IS DIPLOMATIC TOWARD SUFFRAGISTS

St. Louis, June 14.—Senator Ollie James, permanent Chairman of the convention, demonstrated his diplomacy when approached by two suffragettes.

"We want you to pose with Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt and other prominent suffragettes," said one of the ladies to the Senator. "A movie man is going to take our pictures."

S Senator James hesitated a minute. "But I never pose for the movies, and, anyway, I would be decidedly out of place in a group of beautiful women."

And how could the ladies insist further?

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION" BEGINS A TWO DAYS' ENGAGEMENT AT THE WASHINGTON OPERA HOUSE TODAY

David W. Griffith's most extraordinary achievement with his great spectacle, "The Birth of a Nation," is that of making history live, he has touched the high peaks of American history—slavery, the war of secession, the surrender at Appomattox, the death of in the latter half of the picture are so skillfully managed, the interest is so tensely maintained, that often the applause is practically continuous for half to three-quarters of an hour. "Cabiria" and "Quo Vadis" marked great steps forward in the screen drama.

"Ku Klux Klan" Scene in "The Birth of a Nation" at the Washington Theater Today.

Lincoln, the miseries of reconstruction, and the reconciliation of the North and the South.

These things, it would have seemed a year ago, were beyond the scope of the motion picture camera. But the master producer has successfully combined, in 12,000 feet of celluloid, a thrilling, consecutive presentation of national greatness with a vital and human love story. According to experts who have viewed the work, Griffith has not only surpassed in many ways the art of the "indoor" theatre, but he has also developed a new art form far superior to the old-fashioned history or historical novel. A very eminent public man has nicknamed it "history by lightning."

Eighteen thousand people were employed in taking the historical pictures. One sees Lincoln among his conflict, Sherman's march, Grant and Lee shaking hands at Appomattox, the shot that John Wilkes Booth fired, the South in the throes of change, the carpetbaggers' excesses, and the famous rides of the K. K. K. Parties of war veterans and sons of veterans are coming in great numbers to the Tremont. It is difficult for many of them to refrain from shouting the old war-cries or from shuffling the feet to the rhythm of the martial music. Scenes ma. "The Birth of a Nation" points a still more wonderful development. The epic method of narration has been adopted. Enormous ranges of time and space are covered. All the arts contribute to the spectacular realization of poetry, history and romance. In the 5,000 scenes of the pictures there are said to be 200,000 historical details. Besides the achievement of the picture itself, the exhibition of it employs 100 flesh and blood helpers at each performance.

Theatrical producers and observers are wondering what will be the next evolution. Will the motion picture replace the text book in the public schools? Will the Walter Scott's and the W. M. Thackeray's of the future do pictures instead of novel? Will the historian be replaced by the camera man, and the still-life painter by one who like Griffith can turn out hundreds of Rembrandt, Corot and Turner-like scenes in an evening's entertainment?

Some of these queries seem daring now, even grotesque. Yet in view of what is happening around us, it is hard—nay, impossible—to set any limits to the future achievement of the motion pictures.

This great picture begins a two days' run at the Washington Theater today.

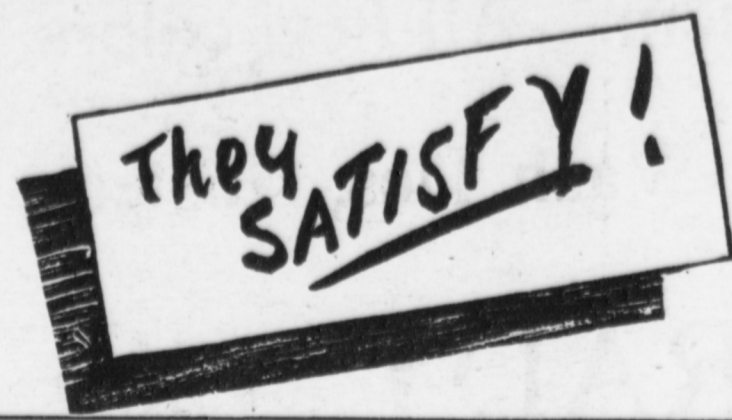

THOUSANDS IN PARADE

Lexington, Ky., June 14—While thousands of persons lined the sidewalks more than 10,000 men, women and children marched in a preparedness parade here today. Acting Governor Combs and his entire staff headed the procession and afterward reviewed the parade. Former Assistant Secretary of War Henry S. Breckinridge delivered an address at the conclusion of the parade.

LONG COURTSHIP ENDED

Kenton, Ohio, June 14—After a courtship of 42 years P. L. Yates, 67 years old, and Miss Kate Reager, 56, have been married. Yates said he believed he could never marry until he owned 1,000 acres of land and had built and furnished a home for his bride.

"Love thy neighbor as thyself," but draw the line at his wife.

FIVE BANDITS EXECUTED

Chihuahua City, Texas, June 14—General Ignacio Ramos reported today to General Jacinto Treviño that he had captured and executed five members of the bandit band under Nicholas Hernandez. General Ramos recently has been pursuing a band of 500 outlaws concentrated in the Rio Florida district.

Official announcement was made at military headquarters here today of the capture of Luis de la Rosa at Tericeria. General Vigili de Aenas asked instructions for the disposition of the bandit, who was the initiator of the plan of San Diego and who recently was reported to be marching upon the east Texas border.

GAVIRA IS "SET DOWN"

El Paso, Texas, June 14—General Gabriel Gavira, commander of the zone of Northern Chihuahua, is to be transferred to San Luis Potosi, according to statements today by officers of the Carranza garrison in Juarez. The authority for the statements was not given. Furniture from General Gavira's house has been shipped south over the line of the Mexican Central Railroad. Gavira's recent conference with General Pershing displeased his superiors.

6.75% Net Income

Today the cost of living has reached the high-water mark. Money has greater earning power—it costs more; that is, it commands a higher rate of interest, and the investor of large or small means should see to it that his funds are so invested as to secure maximum returns, safety considered. High income is desirable but not at risk of principal.

is non-taxable in state of Ohio. The average yearly earnings the past four years were equal to 6 times the preferred dividend requirement. Sinking fund requirements provide that 20% of the net earnings be used for redemption of preferred shares at $115.00 and accrued dividend, stock to be purchased in open market; based on average earnings about 500 shares will be retired yearly. Company furnishes lamps to about 50 automobile manufacturers and over 600 jobs, besides supplying the demand of the motorcycle industry.

Present price to net 6.75%

The Common stock offers a splendid speculation. After providing for preferred dividend, the earnings show about 14% for the common stock, and no dividends paid as yet on this issue. Prospects very good. Stock offered at $21.00 per share.

EXPENSES

Of War No England Increasing at Present, But Supply Is Steady—Hundred and Fifty Millions Expended Each Week.

New York, June 15—After making a rapid computation which was based on authoritative figures he had received from London, one of the American leaders in international financial circles stated this morning, to figures which show that Great Britain is now expending for war purposes on an average of $100,000,000 a week. These authoritative figures, demonstrated in pounds sterling, show that for several weeks England's expenditures on account of the war averaged $1,000,000 pounds a week. Expenditures are not decreasing, but appear to be increasing.

"In these figures," said this financial authority, "is to be discovered the vital factor in England's financial condition."

The hundred and fifty millions a week thus expended are on the whole a dead loss, or almost all of it is. It is either turned up, blown up or eaten up by those who are in the English army or navy. It can never be replaced. Although it is a dead loss, Great Britain seems disposed to maintain and increase these expenditures no matter how long the war lasts.

English financing, the international financier said, now involves the continued emission or sale over the counter of short-time Treasury bills. Last week 50,000,000 pounds sterling of these bills were sold and 10,000,000 more were ready for sale, making an aggregate of 25,000,000 pounds sterling, or, reduced to American money, $125,000,000. Apparently this process is to continue steadily until the day comes when there is no further need of it. England has already incurred an aggregate indebtedness of 3,100,000,000 pounds, or about 15,000,000,000 on account of what are purely war expenditures.

To Issue Exchequer Bills

At the close of the war England will attempt to refund her indebtedness into a permanent security similar to her consols and at a low rate of interest. She is now paying 5 per cent interest upon her Treasury bills. There are also a large amount of exchequer bills issued and more to come.

England is pledged, according to the understanding of our international financiers, to finance the needs of both Russia and France. France is expending monthly for the maintenance of her armies an amount of money almost equal to Germany's expenditure, but Great Britain is expending $250,000,000 a month more than either Germany or France. There is no doubt that England will be able continuously to meet the financial needs of France and of Russia.

Recently the Reichstag authorized a new war credit in Germany of $3,000,000,000. Already Germany has expended in 1916 $2,500,000,000. Germany has also been able to issue $10,000,000 in long-time loans, and that is something which neither Great Britain nor France has been able to accomplish.

It is the later financing of both Great Britain and of Germany which is occasioning the most serious comment respecting the progress of the war in the financial district. Billions in money have been, and will continue to be, burned up, blown up or eaten up, and the wonder is whether the recuperating powers of these nations will be able after the war speedily to offset these colossal drains.

Says London Will Lose

Edward D. Adams, who has been for 25 years the representative in the United States of the Deutsche Bank, has translated into English the forty-sixth annual report of the Deutsche Bank of Berlin. It is the report for the year 1915 and it seems to Mr. Adams to be in many respects the most interesting and remarkable report ever issued by that great institution. The report calls attention to the havoc wrought by the world war to the economic life of Europe, saying that it is impossible as yet to estimate the extent of it. There are, however, some incidental features of this havoc which can be set forth in figures—as, for instance, the Deutsche Bank is inclined to accept as accurate the estimate made by English financial authorities that the decline in values on the London Stock Exchange in the year and a half of the war was considerably in excess of $2,000,000,000.

Not the least interesting of the statements made in this report is the unqualified assertion that "London is far on the way to lose to New York its former position as a monetary power."

This bank did an enormous business in the year 1915. Its turnover was somewhat in excess of $25,000,000,000, and that was $103,000,000 greater than in the previous year. The bank's interest rate during 1915 was never in excess of 5 per cent, and its stock of gold never declined below one third of the amount of notes in circulation. The bank has never been compelled, therefore, to include silver coin and paper currency in its statement of the cover for notes in circulation. France was compelled to increase her note circulation for about $2,000,000,000, and recently raised the limit to a total of 18,000,000,000 francs, which amounts to about $85 per capita. The Deutsche Bank calls attention to the fact that Germany, without assistance from abroad, raised since the beginning of the war $8,500,000,000 for war purposes. It financed several railroads in Turkey. Its profits last year were $11,820,000 and its assets aggregated $752,000,000. In view of the fact that this gigantic war was in progress in 1915, Mr. Adams believes that the report of the Deutsche Bank will be regarded by those who read it as an extraordinary statement.

This war will certainly have a unique place in history. It is creating more widows than heroes.

Belle of Maysville

The most wonderful whisky that ever drove the skeleton from a feast or painted landscapes in the brain of man. It is the mingled souls of wheat and corn. In it you will find the sunshine and the shadow that chased each other over the billowy fields; the breath of June; the carol of the lark; the dew of night; the wealth of summer; and Autumn's rich content—all golden with imprisoned light.

Drink it, and you will hear the voices of men and maidens singing the "Harvest Home" mingled with the laughter of children. Drink it, and you will feel within your blood the star-lit dawns, the dreamy, tawny dusks of many perfect days. For many years this liquid joy has been confined within the happy staves of oak, longing to touch the lips of man.

About CHAUTAUQUA SEASON TICKETS

Local people who have made possible a Chautauqua this season have received from the Redpath Company one thousand $2.50 season tickets which will be sold for $2.00 each. When these tickets are all sold no season tickets thereafter may be bought for less than $2.50. This price will not be reduced from the first day to the close of the Chautauqua.

Single admission to the various sessions aggregate nearly four times the cost of a season ticket, so it will pay you to buy a season ticket even though you attend but a few numbers. Single admission fees are specified in the souvenir programs.

Season tickets are not transferable except within the owner's immediate family.

The owner's name should be written on each ticket so that it may be restored in case of loss.

If at any time during Chautauqua week you forget your season ticket go to the cashier's booth, buy a single admission ticket, take a receipt for same, bring your season ticket and receipt to the cashier at the next session and he will refund the money paid for the single admission. The gate keeper is not allowed to admit you except by ticket.

Admission to morning hour session is secured by showing the regular season ticket to the gate keeper.

Children, aged from six to fourteen years, may secure season tickets for $1.00 each while the supply of 200 such tickets holds out. Thereafter the price will be $1.25. All children are admitted to the afternoon play and story hours free, but must hold tickets if admitted to morning exercise, or afternoon and evening Chautauqua sessions.

This year there is to be no Sunday program. However the Chautauqua will remain eight days, thus making possible a complete seven-day program.

Miss Alice Nielsen, soprano, is to close the Chautauqua. An opportunity will be afforded to secure reserved seats for that occasion.

Presented to Dr. George W. Bunton, Former Maysville Pastor, By Dayton, Ohio, Congregation.

The following item from a Dayton, Ohio, paper has reference to Rev. George W. Bunton, formerly pastor of the Third Street M. E. Church, and will be of interest to his many friends here:

"The congregation of the Grace M. E. Church arranged a complete surprise for their pastor, the Rev. Dr. George W. Bunton, when they presented him a Ford automobile at the conclusion of prayer meeting services last night.

"Fully two hundred of his congregation were on hand for the services. Near the close of the meeting, the pastor received a telephone call, requesting him to come at once and perform a marriage, so he dismissed the meeting and hurried out.

"His Ford was gone. Standing there in the rain, he looked in all directions, but no sign of his machine. At the curb, however, was a shining new machine, his license tag on it, his tools and belongings in it, then he perceived his congregation, standing in the church watching him, and he understood what had happened.

"At the suggestion of J. N. Lyle, R. T. Johnson, E. C. Harley, J. H. Imus, and others, the members of the church had purchased a new machine, to show their appreciation of the work their pastor was doing. The pastor was so overcome that tears streamed down his cheeks, and for several minutes he was unable to express his thanks. The crowd stood there in the rain singing, 'Blessed Is the Tie That Binds.'

"Finally the Rev. Mr. Bunton returned inside the church, where he recovered his composure enough to remark: 'This is the largest marriage fee that I ever received.'

It was said at Mr. Hughes' headquarters today that the nominee would in all likelihood make a campaign tour of the country, but that this matter was also undecided. Headquarters are to be opened eventually in Chicago, it was learned, to handle the campaign in the west.

Strawberry Short Cake Suggestion

Appetizing—Delicious

Take one of Stone's Silver Slice Cakes, split it lengthwise and fill with full-ripe, luscious berries—the result will be a revelation to you.

We have tried it and find that Silver Slice lends itself perfectly for use with any strawberry combination. The flavors blend nicely and the contrast of color is most pleasing and tempting.
